A Message from the President

Nestor L. Arce, CPA

Hello, my name is Nestor L. Arce, CPA; I am honored to currently serve as the president of the Suburban Essex Chamber of Commerce, “SECC”, for the Townships of Bloomfield and Belleville and the Borough of Glen Ridge. My term as president officially started in January of 2011.

I could expound on the current state of economic affairs and how it relates to the economy as a whole and to the SECC in particular. However, since I am an optimist, I will not look upon it as a problem, instead, I see it as an incredible opportunity. Prior to starting my tax and accounting practice in Belleville, NJ, I worked as a tax auditor for thirty-four years. All the time, I was thinking that I wanted to start my own business. Upon being presented with an early retirement package, I saw my opportunity and seized it. I am much happier now than I have ever been. I took control of my life and my practice is growing. Many persons who have been recently laid off from their jobs/professions are now presented with an opportunity to start their own businesses.

We all know of the advantages of being your own boss, such as: control over your destiny, not having to answer to anyone, getting paid based on the amount of effort expended, working as much or as little as you please, etc.

Another opportunity I seized upon was joining the SECC, where I have met and continue to meet, interesting, educated and influential individuals from all walks of life.

The membership fee is ridiculous when compared to the benefits that can be derived (see member benefits on page 4). Do yourself and your business a favor and become a general member, trustee or executive board member; you will not regret it. Thanks to my fellow SECC members for giving me the opportunity to serve and lead.

From the Chamber Office

Celebrating our 95th year, the Suburban Essex Chamber of Commerce represents and promotes local businesses with a goal in 2012 to grow through membership and in the services that we are able to provide to the business community. The chamber's members include many professional practices, service and retail businesses, organizations, civic and patron members.

The Spotlight Directory is an annual community information and resource guide. It contains local township emergency contact information for administrative offices, schools and government elected officials in each of the towns that we represent. The directory also provides a complete listing for all our member businesses along with announcements, events and programs that we provide throughout the year.

Monthly board meetings and networking events encourage members to connect with one another to develop relationships and share ideas that stimulate growth opportunities within our local community.

The chamber has recently implemented an exciting new program called "Member Value Program" (MVP) which is an additional benefit and marketing opportunity for our members. Money saving discount offers are listed on the chamber website for all member businesses that choose to participate and consumers simply need to show the MVP key tags at participating businesses to receive the advertised discount. The tags are free for member businesses and are available at a nominal fee to local consumers. Please contact the office for additional information about participating in the program or purchasing a key tag.

In closing, I would like to sincerely thank all of our members and our board for their continuous support. The Suburban Essex Chamber of Commerce is comprised of a wonderful and dedicated group of individuals and I look forward to many great things to come in 2012.

Respectfully,
Donna M. Pietroiaco
Executive Administrator

How Long has it been since you visited the Library?

- If you've been away from the Bloomfield Public Library for even a few months, you're missing out! The Library isn't just a place for books, magazines, and videos anymore. Our collection includes graphic novels, Spanish language titles, and both audio CDs and DVDs.
- The Children's Library Staff welcome patrons from birth through sixth grade and their parents to participate in a wide variety of stimulating and entertaining activities.
- We have public access with capability to do word processing and Internet searching as well as email, spreadsheets, and other productivity software functions. Patrons may use the system free of charge.
- Visit us on the Internet at www.bplnj.org or on Facebook and Twitter.
- Our membership in the Bergen County Cooperative Library System gives our patrons online access to over 75 other library collections and borrowing privileges at over 150 other NJ libraries.
- Online databases, like Ebscohost, give you access to full text newspapers and magazine articles. Reference USA offers current residential, business and medical listings in the United States and Canada. Even when the library is closed, you may use these databases.
- The Library is completely accessible and ADA compliant, so stop by and see us today.

The Bloomfield Public Library is still located right across from the Historic Green.

Bloomfield Celebrates Bicentennial in 2012

Year Long Celebration Features Monthly Events to Commemorate Township's 200th Year

Bloomfield was part of Newark in 1666 when that town was settled. It was two hundred years ago in 1812 that Bloomfield, New Jersey was incorporated as a municipality. In 1796, the congregation of the Old First Church (now the Presbyterian Church on the Green) was formed. It honored Revolutionary War General Joseph Bloomfield by naming the newly formed parish after him, The Presbyterian Society of Bloomfield. In 1812, the town separated from Newark and incorporated as the Township of Bloomfield, taking its name from the aforementioned Presbyterian parish. Bloomfield originally covered 20.52 square miles (now 5.4 square miles) and included Belleville, Montclair, Woodside, Nutley and Glen Ridge, each separating from Bloomfield in 1839, 1868, 1871, 1874 and 1895 respectively.

Dozens of bicentennial events are planned in Bloomfield throughout the year, including a Bloomfield family roots contest, historical presentations and tours, planting of the bicentennial tree, musical performances, an expanded Memorial Day parade, opening of the sesquicentennial (150) time capsule, old fashion bicentennial picnic, Fourth of July fireworks spectacular and the burying of the bicentennial time capsule.

“We encourage all current and past residents of Bloomfield to participate in as many activities as possible, as we respect our storied past and continue to build our future,” said Janice Litterio, Chairperson of the Bloomfield Bicentennial Committee.

A list of event dates and details, information on sponsorship, merchandise, donation and volunteer opportunities are available at www.bloomfieldbicentennial.com or by request via email at info@bloomfieldbicentennial.com.

Mariela Pagan's weight was interfering with her ability to care for her young son. And to Mariela, that was just unacceptable. So she spoke to her doctor and was referred to Naveen Ballem, MD, Director of Bariatric Surgery who recommended weight loss surgery.

In December 2010, Mariela had her surgery. After three months of healthy eating, exercise and support from family, friends and the Institute, she's dropped 60 lbs. and finds that she can now play with her son for hours.
